Against Mexico.

The editor of the LEDGER, at the uggestion of ex-Gov. C. H. Hardin, chairman of the railroad committee of this county, went to Columbia Monday to see what truth there was in the report that notes given over there read "through Centralia." We were fortunate enough to find the executive com mittee of that county in session and ready to furnish all the information desired. The people of Columbia are anxious to have the railroad built, and are hard at work in this direction. They now have about twenty thousand dollars subscribed, and are still at work. About $2 000 of this is contingent upon the road going through Centralia. The notes used in Columbia have no such discrimination printed on them, and only read "through Columbia." The committee and the people there want the road. Some may want it through Mexico and some through Centralia, but they are all signing notes without the name or either town being mentioned, except those who gave the $2,000 referred to. The gentlemen who subscribed this money have land interests north of Centralia and could not be expected to do otherwise. While some of the Columbia people may want the road to come through Centralia, they will do nothing to cripple Mexico. We talked with people all along the line from Mexpeople all along the line from Mexico to Centralia and it appears to be a conceded fact that the road will come through Mexico. Gen.

Price, of Columbia, said that they could have had all of the notes given there to read via Centralia,
